CITY OF COLUMBIA

This is a special time of the year to reflect and be thankful for the great city that we live in. I am proud to announce that the City of Columbia received the Governor's Home Town Award in recognition of the Outstanding Community Volunteerism that exists in our city. A big "Thank You" goes out to the Art on the Bluffs Art Walk; Friends of the Library; the Columbia Play Commission; the Sand Bank School House Restoration Project; and the Columbia Kiwanis. This honor was awarded in recognition of the outstanding volunteer spirit shown by each of these organizations to our community -- over 400 members, organizers and volunteers assisted these groups in projects resulting in 2,500+ volunteer hours and donations exceeding $41,000 for the betterment of our community. Thanks again - each of you make Columbia a better place to live.

I would like to encourage everyone to "Think Monroe County First" during this holiday season. We have many great businesses in town that can help you with your shopping list and they would love your support. The State of Illinois continues to be delinquent in the payment of funds due to local governmental entities — the current amount owed to the City of Columbia from the Local Government Distributive Fund (our portion of the income tax) is $240,318. Spending your money locally is more important than ever - every little bit helps.

The USS Columbia (our namesake submarine) celebrated the 15th anniversary of its commissioning during November. The submarine's Commander and several members of the crew were in town for this year's Veteran's Day Celebration. It was a great honor to meet the Commander and some of the crew of this Los Angeles Class fast attack submarine. While in Columbia, the crew members also visited our local schools to share experiences and help our younger generation understand the responsibilities of our military forces.

Wishing you all a Safe & Cheerful Holiday Season and a Healthy & Happy New Year!

Kevin Hutchinson, Mayor

Columbia's Main Street is Coming Back...Big!

Reifsneider's Grill & Grape has been open now for several weeks and has been a welcome addition to Columbia's historic Main Street--at least judging by the crowds gathered there each evening. The new restaurant and bar, located at 608 N. Main, has seats and parking enough for everyone...but just barely.

Reifsneider's is just one in a series of new eating places opening along Main Street, a continuing boom that includes Who Dat's Southern Food and a regional restaurant (name to be released) opening a branch here in a few weeks. These dining spots join long-term vendors like Joe Boccardi's Ristorante, Dear Diva Desserts, Gruchala's, The Lantern, Thai House and Quizno's to make Main St. a place to consider whenever mealtime rolls around.

Restaurants aren't all that's happening on Main Street. Several other new businesses have opened this year, most of them offering personal services. During the same period, the facades (storefronts) of several buildings have been improved to take advantage of a matching grant program offered by the City.

The surge in new businesses has spurred a surge in enthusiasm as well. Merchants recently formed a Main Street Merchants Association to combine their efforts and to promote local shopping. One of the first initiatives of this new group will be to sponsor banners promoting "Historic Main Street Columbia" on light standards after the first of the year.

NEW RESIDENTIAL RECYCLING CART

During 2010, the City of Columbia is introducing, at no cost to residents, a larger residential recycling cart to accommodate the ever-increasing amount of recyclables produced by residents. This new 65-gallon recycling cart will be similar to your current 65-gallon trash cart, but with a blue lid. Please note: your weekly recycling pick-up day will not change. In addition, please place the recycling cart at least 5 feet from your trash cart. This will allow proper access for the automatic arm on the Reliable Sanitation truck to pick up the carts.

Recyclable items that were normally put in the green recycle bins can be put in the new recycling carts. NOTE: No Styrofoam, motor oil, insecticide, herbicide or hazardous chemical containers are permitted. Please do not put non-recyclable materials in the recycling cart as the entire recycled load collected by Reliable Sanitation may be rejected at the recycle plant and ultimately end up in a landfill. A complete detailed list of recyclable items can be found on the City's website, www.columbiaillinois.com/recycling guide.

Disposal of your used 18-gallon recycling bin will be provided at a later date; bins will either be reused or recycled.

Distribution of the recycling carts recently began on the west side of Columbia. Due to the large number of homes in Columbia receiving new recycling carts, we ask for everyone to be patient while waiting for delivery of a new recycle cart. It is anticipated that all city residents will receive a cart by the end of 2011.

'Team Columbia' Promotes Community with Midwest Retailers, Developers

Reports show that the national and regional economy is slowly improving - the City of Columbia and its partnering entities are working to tell the community's story to attract new retail businesses and other development into the city.

City staff have been working to continually improve and update the municipal website, the venue through which 85% of first contacts are made (according to a national survey). The City maintains records online displaying available land and buildings within the city limits; this information is also entered into the Location One Information System (LOIS), a regional database for properties across the Midwest.

Obviously, just maintaining a list is not enough. The City also markets opportunities by a variety of means. Last month, Columbia exhibited at the International Council of Shopping Center's Chicago Deal Making event, a trade show that assembled more than 2,400 developers, retailers, real estate brokers and city officials for the express purpose of making connections and facilitating new deals. Last January, the City exhibited at a similar event in Kansas City, and plans are being made to participate in another event next month in St. Louis.

The City's booth at these events is staffed by Paul Ellis, Director of Community & Economic Development. He was assisted by Craig Hiser, owner of CMJP Properties (a brokerage based in Columbia), and David Wittenauer, vice president for NAI DESCO (a regional brokerage with an office in Columbia). While these brokers have business interests expanding beyond the city limits, all three work together as "Team Columbia" to identify and follow up with potential new development.

A Message from the Columbia Police Department

Throughout the year there are a number of scams that individuals use in an attempt to take money from innocent victims. Unfortunately an increase normally occurs during the holiday season. I just wanted to take this opportunity and provide some information that individuals might be able to use to protect themselves.

E-mail scams usually come with a subject line titled "ALERT" or "Unpaid Account." The message will usually start out by saying, "I have been waiting for you to contact me since....." or "I have been unable to contact you and this is your final notice." The e-mail will usually ask the individual to send a specific amount of money to the scammer. The body of the message will usually contain broken English and may include an address from another country. Currently the most common scams are lottery-type scams from Canada. Please don't ever send money to people you do not know. I encourage everyone to delete any e-mails they receive if they do not know the sender of the e-mail.

Please remember these are just a few of the scams currently in use on the internet. Please also remember not to give out your personal information over the phone or through the mail to people or companies that are not familiar to you. If you have any questions about e-mail scams, feel free to contact the Columbia Police Department or visit the FBI website at www.fbi.gov.

Also during the holiday season be sure to lock your doors and windows and report any suspicious activity you see in your neighborhood and community to the police department. We need the public's assistance to help us prevent and reduce crime.

Joseph A. Edwards, Chief of Police

Shoemaker School is one of three historic schools raising additional funds through engraved pavers in the new plaza which will commemorate teachers and students who attended any of Monroe County's schools. For more information about the commemorative effort, please contact Dennis Patton, chair of the Columbia Heritage & Preservation Commission at (314) 825-2242.

Did You Know!

In 1820, Columbia was plotted as a town and built on bluffs 500 feet above sea level to protect against the flooding of the Mississippi River. Columbia is a poetic name for the United States (America). In 1859, Columbia was incorporated as a town as a result of the growth from German immigration. In 1868, the first railroad tracks were laid in Columbia, and the town continued to grow and develop. In 1903 it changed to a village and in 1927 Columbia became a city.

UTILITY BILL DIRECT DEPOSIT

Don't forget you can sign up for direct debit payment of your monthly utility bill. This is a free service and can be initiated by completing a direct debit form which is available at City Hall.
