

WINTER 2015

Columbia Quarterly

www.columbiaillinois.com

Many events and activities are in store for 2016 in the Monroe County area as we honor its Bicentennial Celebration. That's right, Monroe County will be turning 200 years old! To observe this milestone, on January 1 we will kick the year off with church bells ringing in unison throughout the county. Other events include a Bicentennial Birthday Bash, scavenger hunt, museum displays, bus tours, Bicentennial Palooza, and a gala to name just a few. Check the calendar on our website for details and join us in honoring our county's rich history and significant progress.

A suitable state budget is vital to Columbia, and I will continue to work closely with our state leadership - working together to reach this goal.

If you have any questions, concerns or comments please contact me at 281-7144 ext. 109 (office), 281-5199 (home) or khutchinson@columbiaillinois.com.

Wishing you all a safe, happy and healthy holiday season!

New Professional Center Rises at City Entrance

A new professional center, the "11 South" medical office building, has begun rising at 247 Sand Bank Road, in Columbia, near the north entrance to the city. The $12 million, five-story glass and steel building, pictured here, will offer sweeping views of downtown St. Louis, Clayton the Jefferson Barracks Bridge and surrounding areas of the American Bottom.

"11 South" will house physicians and medical professionals from Progressive Family Care, ATI Physical Therapy, Quantum Vision Centers, Community Health Systems, and an urgent care facility, an investment firm and other professionals, as well as the headquarters for Admiral Parkway Development. The building is the first of four anticipated for the site by developer Joe Koppeis, principal in Admiral Parkway.

For more information regarding the project, please contact Admiral Parkway Development at 281-3400.

The ABC's of Safe Sleep

Infants and babies should always sleep:

ALONE

on their BACKS

in a safe CRIB

October is Appointed as Safe Sleep Awareness Month

The Department of Child and Family Services (DCFS) has selected the month of October as Safe Sleep Awareness month. As Commander of the Child Death Task Force, I would like to promote safe sleeping for infants and children throughout the year. According to DCFS statistics, sleep suffocation is the leading cause of reported child deaths in Illinois. It is unsettling the number of child deaths reported due to co-sleeping, a factor that is completely avoidable. As a parent or guardian to an infant or small child, you are primarily responsible for ensuring a safe environment while they sleep. Most importantly do not place your infant or small child in harm's way by allowing them to sleep in your bed. Please follow the ABC's of safe sleeping – Alone on my Back in my Crib.

The Child Death Task Force investigates every child death in the southern 34 counties of Illinois, thoroughly, to ensure justice for the children who no longer have a voice. They utilize prior knowledge, training, and experience to hold negligent caretakers accountable for their actions. The parents, guardians and caregivers who have endangered a child's life by carelessly placing them in a deadly environment to sleep will be held liable by the Child Death Task Force.

DCFS and Child Death Task Force have united to educate the public about the dangers of co-sleeping and the importance of safe sleeping. Your baby should sleep in a crib with a firm mattress covered by a tightly fitted sheet. Babies die every week in Illinois while sleeping on adult beds, couches, pillows, blankets and other soft surfaces as well as in car seats, bouncy seats and infant swings. Additional safety tips:

- 1) Keep stuffed animals, toys, pillows, blankets, quilts, and crib bumpers out of your baby's crib.
- 2) Don't smoke before or after your baby is born, and don't let others smoke around your baby.
- 3) Try using a pacifier when placing your baby to sleep, but don't force it. If you are breastfeeding your baby, wait until he is one month old or is used to breastfeeding before using a pacifier.
- 4) Don't let your baby overheat during sleep. Dress her lightly for sleeping, and keep the room at a temperature that is comfortable for an adult.
- 5) Your baby needs plenty of supervised "tummy time" when he is awake to help build strong neck and shoulder muscles. Don't let your baby spend too much time in car seats, carriers and bouncers.
- 6) If you are having difficulty getting your baby to sleep, contact your pediatrician or the Fussy Baby Network at 1-888-431-BABY (2229).
- 7) Visit the Consumer Product Safety Commission's Crib Safety Information Center at www.cpsc.gov for sleep safety tips and a list of recalled products. Additional information is available on the DCFS website www.DCFS.illinois.gov.

Respectfully, Col. Joseph A. Edwards

Miller-Fiege Home Auction Items and Family Mementos

Family history enthusiasts and auction goers unite! The Columbia Historic Preservation Committee would like to spread the word that we are in search of items that may have been purchased at either the 1993 or the 2008 Miller-Fiege Home auctions. While a great portion of the furniture displayed in the home is original, there is a desire to display the everyday items that would have belonged to the family. If you are interested in donating items or loaning treasures to display that were original to the home, please contact Beth Kutterer-Sanchez (CHPC Chair) at bethkutterer@gmail.com or at 618-791-6895.

Stay tuned for upcoming dates where the home will be open for community enjoyment! Scheduled tours for groups are always welcome. Call us today to make an appointment! Like us on Facebook to stay up-to-date with the happenings of the home; just search 'Miller-Fiege Home'
